WORCESTER ENTANGLED BY CYANIDE

15 FAMILIES ARE RUINED BY FLAMES

Children Carried to Safety as Fire Sweeps Tenement in Charlestown

Fifteen families, including about 20 children, fled in terror today when flames, blazing furiously before being discovered, swept through a tenement house at 52 Main st., Charlestown. Two alarms were sounded.

A family of five, including a 7-week-old baby, were trapped on the fourth floor and rescued by firemen who raced over ladders to reach them. All were badly affected by smoke inhalation before the rescuers arrived.

The fire started on the first floor and gained headway rapidly. When those on upper floors were aroused, they found the stairways cut off by dense billows of smoke. They were forced to flee down fire escapes.

The family of Harold Gove, including his wife, a daughter, Marie, 3, Thomas, 3 and Francis, 7-week-old, were unable to reach the street.

CRISIS BRING AID

Their cries for help brought Laddermen, Michael Fleming and Joseph Driscoll of Ladder 9 over ladders to the fourth floor. The firemen found the family huddled in a corridor and led them to windows, from which the children were handed to firemen on ladders outside.

The fire was discovered by Patrolman Frank Condon of Station 13, City sq., who, on seeing an alarm, dashed into the house to arouse the inmates.

Within a few minutes he was joined by Patrolmen William Gaskill, Raymond Trayer and Francis E. Higgins.

Using their clubs, the policemen forced to the top of the building crashing an alarm on all the doors. They then directed the flight of the tenants. Only a few of them were able to make the descent down stairways before the means of escape was barred by smoke.

The policemen turned to the fire-escapes and succeeded in getting all but the Gove family safely out.

Others rescued included 12 and Mrs. Everett Clidberry, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Roche and their children, Edward, 5, and John, 6; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Roche and daughter, 11; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brady, 17, and Mrs. Annie Potter and their four children.

CHINESE CALL ON LEAGUE TO HALT SOVIET

Protest Russian Invasion as a Violation of Kellogg Anti-War Pact

Canton, Nov. 26 (AP)—Wireless dispatches from Wuchow today stated that the Nationalist army airplane squadron had raided and bombarded that city and the nearby Kwang border, killing many persons, terrorizing the populace and inflicting serious property damage.

Nanking, China, Nov. 26 (AP)—The council of the Chinese government today addressed an appeal both to the League of Nations and to individual signatories of the Kellogg peace pact to take steps to halt and punish the Russian, Soviet "invasion" of Chinese territory.

The invasion was termed a deliberate violation of the anti-war pact, the council said. The various appeals were in identical language and were sent under Monday's date. They declared that, while the Chinese government has always remained on the defensive despite repeated attacks, the Soviet Union has with-out a declaration of war invaded China, occupied Chinese cities and "massacred innocent Chinese citizens in cold blood."

The note concludes, expressing the hope the signatories to the anti-war pact will make appropriate steps to stop and punish this deliberate violation.

MAN, DUMB 28 YEARS, CLAIMS SHRINE CURE

John Banco Says Power of Speech Came Suddenly After Prayers

Ten days ago the only sounds he could make were "Woof, woof."

Now, through his faith and two visits to the grave of Fr. Patrick J. Power in Holy Cross cemetery, Malden, John Banco, 60, of Center st., Roslindale, can speak as fluently as he could before losing his speech, 28 years ago.

In addition to regaining speech, Banco says he has gained vision. Banco recovered the use of his left arm, which had been paralyzed and paralyzed since an attack of infantile paralysis at six months.

And he is eagerly awaiting the coming of his right arm, which he says will be twisted from paralysis. A week ago last Friday, Nov. 15, Banco made his first visit to the shrine.

He arrived at the grave and rubbed my arms and legs and mouth with the earth," he said. "I felt nothing then."

CELLS OF CURE

"I went again on the next Sunday with a big crowd at 6 o'clock and rubbed the earth on my arms and legs and mouth."

"There and four times I prayed at the grave and then I went and prayed at the chapel. I felt something jump into me, like a mist, and I felt funny," said the man to himself. "How are you?" It sounded funny and I didn't believe it was me until I began to shake and shiver."

"Then I said to people near me, 'Thank you for saying something.' The people made a crowd around me and they were happy."

"I forgot about my arm. I was so happy, until I saw I was moving my hand. I was so happy, until I saw I was moving my hand. I was so happy, until I saw I was moving my hand."

POISON FOUND BY AUTOPSY ON UNDER VICTIMS

Woman and Superintendent of Detectives Were Slain in Cottage, Doctors Determine

Worcester, Nov. 26—Cyanide of potassium, not poison known, killed Superintendent of Detectives James J. Casey and Mrs. Dora Bingham in the lonely "love nest" cottage in Spencer, where their bodies were found yesterday.

Medical Examiner Deland of West Warren, one of three physicians who performed autopsies on the bodies, said he was convinced that, after today, while police investigation of the tragedy proceeded on the theory of a double murder.

Police seek for questioning a man seen about Worcester within the last week. Mrs. Casey reported in a state of collapse, will be questioned late today regarding the habits of her husband if her condition improves.

With fingerprint experts admittedly seeking evidence of murder against a third person, State Detective Edward J. McCarthy, Chief Thomas F. Foley and several city detectives again visited the lonely camp on the shore of Brooks pond, in Spencer, near the North Brookfield line.

"POWERFUL POISON"

They spent two and one-half hours here with Dr. Deland, making a minute examination of everything within the camp, and when they departed the medical examiner carried a small object, wrapped in paper.

Fingerprinters were sought particularly on two keys and 11 bottles of home brew found in the camp, it being Dr. Deland's opinion that the poison had been put in the beer.

CHIEF CHANGES VIEW

The identity of the two or three men who had been seen at the cottage when the chemical analysis of the bodies was made, now being conducted at Worcester City hospital, is completed.

Chief Foley said yesterday he was convinced the couple had died of poison liquid, said Dr. Deland. "The case seems peculiar and mysterious, but it seemed at first."

Dr. Deland believed that Casey and Mrs. Bingham drank not more than one bottle of beer each and that five minutes after drinking it they were rendered semi-conscious by the poison.

CHECK RUN ON BANK IN R. I.

Woonsocket, R. I., Nov. 26—A run on the Woonsocket Institute for Savings developed today as the result of wild rumors of reported insolvency, but was checked by a subscription of $1,000,000 from Providence.

About 200 people had been in line since the bank's opening at 9 o'clock, with 17 people standing outside. All deposits were paid off promptly.

State Bank Commissioner J. W. H. Newell gave authority for the Institute to borrow $1,000,000 in Providence, and more if necessary.

"This bank is entirely safe," said the commissioner, adding that there is no reason for such a run.

President Charles M. Cook issued a statement in which he stated the run as "ridiculous." His bank is one of the oldest in Rhode Island, and with $10,000 in resources.

"Our bank is as solid as any bank could possibly be," he said.

Acetylene Gas Blast Alarms Two Towns

Buildings were shaken and residents in Concord, Lexington and other surrounding towns were awakened and started early today by explosion of half a dozen tanks of acetylene in Concord at the Concord river.

The explosion was utilized in cutting rails of an unused branch line of the Boston & Maine Railroad on a trestle over the river. In so doing, the trestle caught fire and the flames spread to the small building in which acetylene was stored.

The explosion was accompanied by a blinding flash that illuminated the night sky momentarily.

For hours the location of the explosion was a mystery and police in a number of communities were swamped with telephone calls from excited householders.

Overrules Lomasney in Tunnel Fight

Atty-Gen Joseph E. Walker today ruled against the contention of Martin Lomasney, West End political leader, that the State department of public works has authority to consider in their entirety the plans for the new $16,000,000 East Boston tunnel.

Frank E. Lyman, head of the department, asked for the attorney-general's ruling after Lomasney had charged irregularities in the manner the present plans were approved.

"I am of opinion that the jurisdiction of your department is limited to that part of the tunnel which lies between the tide marks on both sides of the harbor," Warner's ruling said.

"I am further of the opinion that, insofar as the laying out and construction of plans and street approaches are concerned your department is interested only to see that no wharves, piers or other structures of the commonwealth lay lower water mark are taken without due compensation and that, with respect to facilities on property of the commonwealth at

URGES BABY VACCINATION TO MAKE STATE SAFE FROM SMALLPOX

BIGGELL TO PROPOSE

Health Commissioner is Sure He Will Be Opposed on Compulsory Bill

Compulsory vaccination of all babies under one year of age and revaccination early in their school life is proposed in a bill to be introduced in the Legislature by State Public Health Commissioner George H. Biggell.

In announcing his revolutionary plan, Biggell is sure to be bitterly opposed during the next session, Dr. Biggell declared.

Smallpox this year than in any year since 1901. In 1928, the declared also, the "United States was more smallpox ridden than any country in the world except India."

Therefore, he said, "the department is introducing a bill drawn on lines that have proven effective in other countries of the world."

This would require vaccination of all infants before the end of the first year and revaccination early in their school life. This is the solution of smallpox, rather than vaccination clinics after the disease has sickened many, closed schools and disrupted the economic life of the community, as we saw done this year.

Biggell added that Middlesex county is now probably the most as far as smallpox is concerned of any community in the state, which was not the case a year ago when out of some 300 cases only two were found to have ever been vaccinated and that occurred more than 30 years before.

"There are plenty other communities in the state in the same condition, waiting for the spark to fall," he declared.

"With the volume of smallpox all over the country mounting there will be plenty of sparks brought into the state."

"At the hearings 1-1 year ago," he said, "it was pointed out that the protective value of vaccination was not established, were efforts made to extend its protection to the younger children."

Family of Hiccough Victim in Dire Need

Milford, Nov. 26—While their father waits an uphill battle to health after being stricken for 17 days with hiccoughs, the wife and six children of Peter Galli, 46-year-old stone cutter, face a cheerless Thanksgiving and Christmas unless aid is sent immediately.

After a brief respite from the malady in September, Galli built a shack in the woods on advice of his physician, and has lived there since.

His long enforced layoff, during which he has been unable to bring in even a few dollars to support his family, has left them in "critical" circumstances.

VERMONT BACKS HOOVER PLAN

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 26 (AP)—Gov. John E. Weeks today notified President Hoover that Vermont is actively supporting the President's program for stabilizing business.

The governor's message to the President said:

"Our road building plans for 1930 call for the largest expenditure ever undertaken for highway purposes except during the period of rehabilitation following the flood in 1927."

"Conditions in this State will be as little disturbed by the recent fall in prices of securities as any part of the country. With increased bank deposits, fully satisfactory employment of labor, a healthy market for our products and a thrifty population, we have reason to anticipate that 1930 will be a prosperous year in Vermont for business, industry and agriculture."

HILL'S 90 WIFE ASKS DIVORCE AND $750,000

Livingston, Mont., Nov. 25 (AP)—Another divorce action, the third in the stormy marital career of Walter Hill, youngest son of the late James J. Hill, railroad magnate, was recorded in district court today.

In the divorce suit Mrs. Hill sought to obtain $5000 temporary alimony, $2000 monthly permanent alimony, $35,000 attorney's fees and $750,000 set aside from the huge Hill estate for redress pending settlement of the suit.

Although the papers in the case were immediately withdrawn from the court files and Mrs. Hill's attorney refused to divulge their contents, James H. O'Connor, attorney for the Hill interests, declared they contained certain allegations that would not pass unchallenged.

Among the grounds known to be named in the complaint was that Mrs. Hill's attitude toward her husband made life unbearable to the plaintiff.

With the filing of a divorce complaint it appeared that the prominence of the son of James J. Hill known for his works in the northwest as the empire builder of the West.

Walter Hill married Mildred Richardson, characterized by Florence Shipfield, the Chicago Tribune, as a "perfect American beauty," just ten minutes after he obtained a divorce from his second wife, Pauline Gillison Hill. That was on May 18, 1927.

Before the present divorce suit there was another breach in the romance of the Follies beauty and the wealthy westerner. In October, 1927 just five months after their marriage, Mrs. Hill filed suit in Seattle seeking separation.

The complaint declared that while Hill had the managing of a Park Avenue boulevardier, since the wedding he had been "wild as the Montana scenery." The suit was dropped when a reconciliation was effected.

PRESIDENT CAN END 'DRY' RULE, SAYS HORST

New York, Nov. 25—E. Clemens Horst, California grain and grape grower, who debated here on Monday against prohibition, said Dr. Clarence True Wilson of Washington, suggested a simple way of modifying the federal prohibition laws. He said:

"The President or Attorney-General can end federal prohibition by proclaiming there will be no more prosecutions under the 18th amendment and leave the matter to the states."

"That is a peculiar thing to say from the standpoint of law enforcement and respect for the Constitution, but do not forget the Federal Government is the worst offender in that line."

"The United States Supreme Court said no foreign vessel could carry liquor in American ports but the Senate immediately ratified treaties with all foreign countries allowing them to do the very thing the Supreme Court said could not be allowed."

"The Federal Government sells liquor to ships in the Panama Canal zone from its own warehouses. It has exempted the Philippine Islands from the operation of the prohibition laws, although under the Constitution they should apply to all our territories."

FARM LEADERS PLEDGE AID TO HOOVER

Washington, Nov. 25—Farm leaders of the country have pledged full support to President Hoover's program for business stabilization and progress, and indicated a movement for cheaper farm credit, and more new roads, to improve agriculture.

These were the outstanding developments of a meeting of eleven of the leaders with the President, the last of the succession of personal conferences scheduled by him to invigorate national economic activity.

"The morale of the agricultural group is now better than it has been for years past," the conferees declared through Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.

They found prices of agricultural products beginning to recover, and an increased farm income this year enabling farmers to buy more goods.

Meanwhile vast construction programs by state and local governments were forthcoming in programs received by President Hoover from the governors of many states. The governors promised full support to the President in speeding up construction work.

Increased federal highway building was proposed in Congress shortly before the farm leaders exposed it at the White House. Cassius C. Dowell (R.) of Iowa announced he will work to increase

He's Such a Good Liar Cop Gets Him Off

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Officer Greenlow of Washington's traffic bureau found a speeder with a new car—so he helped him put it over.

Writing out a "ticket" for a driver with a too-heavy foot, Greenlow was greeted with the question, "Would it be all right if I spoke to Officer Greenlow about this?"

"Oh, do you know Officer Greenlow?" Greenlow asked. "Certainly I know him—know him very well," came the reply.

"I know his wife, too. Why, his two children and mine play together all the time. There's no doubt he'll get me off as soon as he hears I've been arrested."

Greenlow gave his "acquaintance" the ticket, and suggested that he look at the name on it. But in traffic court today, for the originality of it, he aided the next year's appropriation for federal aid in road construction from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000.

The farm leaders conferred for more than two hours with the President, Secretary Hyde and Chairman Alexander Legge of the Federal farm board.

"COLONEL" IS TOO SMART FOR SOCIETY LEADER

NOTE—"Colonel" Dick Naps, the author, is recalling the conversation which took place with Mrs. Bismont, society leader, in her carriage. She has intimated that he must have "had an affair" with Clara Middle, who has been booted out of society.

WELL, the old "dodo" looked at me as though she thought I ought to be "bored to stumps," and remarked, "Colonel, you must be the most innocent man in the whole world, or—"

I said, "or what?"

She remarked in a whisper not intended for me to hear, "Blamed fool."

At this time our carriage was at the door of my hotel, or boarding house, I alighted, and in a very gracious way thanked Mrs. Middle, assuring her I had enjoyed the ride hugely, remarking, "I am very much obliged for the 'gentrily,'" and wound up my remarks by saying I intended to find out the truth about Clara.

But Mrs. Bismont slammed the carriage door with a slam that as much as said, "Oh, you idiot!" I knew very well that this old "alligator" had schemed up that ride to throw mud at Clara and thus interest me in the welfare of her own daughter, Dorothy.

GREET SON OF SANTA AT JORDAN'S

Out of the excitement of last Saturday at the meeting of Jordan's Junior Aviation League, when one of the members challenged Santa Claus to produce some member of his family as evidence that he is a real person, has come one of the greatest parties ever staged in Boston for the boys and girls of New England—a Santa Claus parade.

The parade is to take place on Thanksgiving Day morning, and starts with a reception to his boy, whose name is Jonathan, when he lands at the Charles River Basin from the great orange hydroplane which even now is winging its way from the frozen Northland in response to Santa's radio message.

Bulleting along the way show that the plane is making fast time and is sure to get here in time for the celebration which starts at 10 o'clock next Thursday morning.

It's not just an ordinary parade. It is a wonderful show with sights never before seen in this city—the famous Tony Sarg features. There are clowns and giants, dwarfs and gnomes, and all the favorite characters of all the boys and girls.

Just most wonderful of all are the huge balloons which represent the Flying Sky Tiger, the Flying Elephant, the Straw Man and the Bunny.

Two hands of music will also feature this parade. Twenty-five members of the First Corps de Band will provide martial strains for the beginning of the parade.

Then follow two of Tony Sarg's fantastic balloons with 12 characters in carnival costumes, including each balloon. Next in line of parade comes Longfellow, the tallest man of Boston, whom all the children will want to see, and immediately following him will be the smallest person in Boston, a midget or dwarf, and then comes professional clown that will cause merriment and laughter the entire length of the parade.

Intermingled among these characters will be about 50 boys and girls all dressed in the Christmas spirit. Then come two more Tony Sarg balloons with all their attendants in costume. Following these balloons there will be an air band of 40 planes, the Boston University Band, and three decorated characters, each riding a float.

Dublin to Have Papal Nuncio

Vatican City, Nov. 25—Negotiations have advanced between the Irish Free State and the Holy See for the appointment of a Papal nuncio in Dublin.

M'MANUS CASE GOES ON AFTER "MISTRIAL"

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—A mistrial was declared in the trial of George A. McManus for the murder of Arnold Rothstein today, but a new trial was immediately declared in progress.

The 11 jurors already sitting remained in their seats, both state and defense stating their acceptance.

Before declaring a mistrial, Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., said it had come to his attention that certain newspapers had carried purloined interviews with one of the jurors, namely, Morris Smith, occupying seat No. 8.

He had discussed the subject with Smith and counsel for state and defense, Judge Nott said, and after hearing Mr. Smith's explanation of his chance meeting with newspaperman in a Greenwell Village cellar, had decided that Juror Smith was entirely blameless and that he had done nothing to impair his qualifications as a juror.

Continuing, the judge said several other jurors had told him they had been annoyed by certain newspaper reports. He warned the reporters that if any newspaper representative approached any of the jurors in the courtroom or corridors of the building, his paper would be barred from further attendance at the trial.

The "new" jury for the trial was

She Learned All About Sleuthing From Him

Chicago, Nov. 25 (INR)—Detective William Burton made the mistake of teaching his wife all the sleuthing tricks he knew. As a result Mrs. Gladys Burton holds a divorce decree today which she won by showing her husband and finally leading a police raid on an apartment. During the Burton's courtship, it developed at the divorce hearing Burton often took his fiancée with him when he performed his detective work. She became so adept, she carefully taught her the fine points of the profession.

She proved an expert student, her attorney says, and after the marriage she continued the study of detective work. She became so adept, in fact, that her husband even planned to go into business for himself and employ Mrs. Burton as his chief assistant.

Last year, according to the charges she found herself confronted with a detective problem of her own. Her husband, the charges state, stayed away from home a good share of the time. Mrs. Burton decided to put her acquired theory into practice. The result—a divorce decree.

NEW ENGLAND DRESSED FRESH PORK

Solves The Problem Of Pristine Freshness

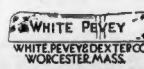

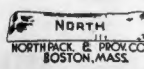

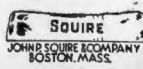

How fine the vegetables in the markets look at harvest time . . . how fresh they are, how fine are their flavors. Brought in from nearby farms, they are garden-fresh, the product of New England farmers, the choice of New England housewives. Many discriminating buyers, however, who would scorn the purchase of wilted vegetables, unknowingly have purchased Fresh Pork that in the strictest sense is not Fresh.

Pork, whether chops, roasts, fresh Hams or fresh Shoulders, when shipped long distances cannot compare in freshness and fine flavor with Fresh Pork, dressed, Government inspected and passed, and then delivered your dealer within 24 hours after cutting. Be sure of getting Fresh Pork that is strictly fresh in fact as well as in theory—instant on New England Dressed Fresh Pork. High grade dealers all over New England are displaying a sign identifying them as dealers in New England Dressed Fresh Pork. These signs will assist you in buying.

A post card will bring you this New book—"21 Reasons for Using and 21 Ways to Serve New England Dressed Fresh Pork." Just mail your post card to any of the five firms listed below, and mention this paper.

DEDICATION OF AIRPORT SET FOR SPRING

By GEORGE HAMBLIN

The Boston Airport will be officially dedicated, if several things go according to Hoyle, next May. That if is due to the fact that the meeting at the University Club was a "feeler" meeting of those interested and the final arrangements will come on December 6 when the aviation committee of the American Legion meets again at the club.

But for the time being, with nothing final at all, it is safe to say that this State of Massachusetts will have a State-wide air tour, with an air meet at four different fields on four different days, and that the aerial party will wind up over the weekend at the Boston Airport with a real air meet.

While we are not at liberty to divulge the committee chosen at the meeting, we might say that there never was a gang of boys more intensely interested in aviation and better fitted to pull off a State-wide air tour, winging up with the dedication of the real Boston Municipal Airport.

So, until the happy day of December 6, we must keep you in ignorance of the big time ahead. We hope that Dan Rockefeller can be present at that meeting.

After many weeks of wondering, we received a letter from Charlie Arnold, the chief of the New England Harcourters, and we were not badly flustered to learn that he was in North Carolina, working his way South with a brand new Day-Standard, and having a lot of fun at it.

Arnold is the boy who makes the rest of them laugh when he pulls his student takeoff, and when he blows into an airport and starts cutting up, it is just too bad.

Anyhow, next spring, we will have Charlie back again, and then, hold everything.

That chap who chalks up more sales than anyone else in Curtis-Wright, Lee "Skip" Tracy, comes forth with the information that he has so many deals to close that he almost doesn't know where to start.

"Skip" is one of the original barstoppers in these air states, ranking with Gordon Groah, Irv Elliot and George Watkins, and he was formerly chief pilot at the Springfield station of the outfit. Tracy has hung up a record in these parts for aviation goods sold that will stand for a long time, and when he gets through with his present campaign, a campaign that has gone through the months without a bit of a moratorium, he will be "way ahead of anybody anyone can care to mention."

And how?

In order to boost sales, Skyways, Inc., has started a flight program among its salesmen, and he has to outclass anything heretofore seen in this town.

Each and every salesman on the payroll has been given an airplane, so to speak, and each sale that this salesman brings in counts for so many miles. If Jack Jones brings in a transport student, for instance, he will be credited with 4500 miles on the coast "flight."

And so forth.

The four winners of the contest will be given a free trip to Montreal, with all expenses paid, and flown both ways in the company's Bellanca cabin monoplane, and what will happen is none of anybody's business.

Incidentally, Tom Goldie, who says that he has enough students lined up that the whole affair is "in the bag" as far as he is concerned. And what a salesman this chap Goldie is.

There is one boy who deserves a lot of credit for his part in the development of his business in Boston aviation circles, and who has not received his full quota of credit for same. This chap is Robert P. "Bugs" Raymond, who sells the famous Avro Avian in these parts, and who has been quietly going ahead with his other plans, that of the Aviation Business Bureau for months.

BIG DIVERSION OF NARCOTICS REPORTED

Washington, Nov. 25.—The stupendous total of $200,000,000 worth of narcotics were diverted from the legal supplies between July 1, 1928, and October 21, 1929, it has been revealed by the federal narcotics unit.

This is sufficient to give every person in the nation's capital a "shot" of dope every day for nearly two weeks.

There were diversion of $5,000,000 medical doses of opium derivatives, including powdered opium, licit opium, paregoric, morphine and heroin, and $245,000 doses of cocaine. All of these drugs were manufactured in the United States from raw materials, crude opium, and coca leaves, which are imported into the country supposedly in quantities limited to actual medical needs.

The federal narcotics control board is charged with restricting the imports to the legitimate necessities. It bases the needs, not on a medical survey, but on the sales reported by manufacturers. The diversions are included in these sales reports. It is admitted by officials, therefore, that the imports during the period were excessive of medical requirements, as the diversions went into the hands of peddlers and addicts. The board has been asked to reduce the imports next year to offset the excesses caused by the illicit leaks.

During the period the narcotics unit suffered for each instead of prosecutions in court cases involving diversions of 7207 ounces of paregoric, 244,928 medical doses of morphine, 252 doses of heroin, which is not permitted to be manufactured, and 1200 doses of cocaine.

2 DIE, 22 HURT IN FIRE RUSH

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—The bodies of two men were recovered today from the ruins of a subway construction shack at Long Island City, where 200 men stampeded when fire swept the structure. Twenty-two men were injured.

The men, engaged in digging a tunnel under Newtown Creek to connect the new Eighth ave. subway line with Brooklyn, were changing clothing in the locker room preparing to go to work on the midnight shift, when the fire was discovered.

The flames spread rapidly and the men rushed to the two stairways leading down from the second floor. They had to stoop and the first group fell. Others stumbled over them and soon the stairways were choked. Then others leaped from the windows and many suffered broken bones and sprains.

Girl Who Can't Stop Eating Is Puzzle

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 25 (INS).—Australian doctors are puzzled over the illness of a 24-year-old girl in St. Vincent's Hospital here who cannot stop eating. Whatever the obscure disease may be, it has not affected her personal appearance. She looks much younger than her age. She is alleged to eat in a day: Fifteen meat pies, 21 bananas, 12 nutton chops, 30 slices of toast, 3 loaves of bread and 18 sausages. She drinks 77 cups of tea and two gallons of beef tea.

CARUSO BODY IS RE-DRESSED IN LATEST STYLE

Paris, Nov. 25.—Although he has been dead more than eight years, Enrico Caruso, tenor of tenors, is still dressed in the height of fashion.

His embalmed body, a masterpiece of the world's most famous tenor, Schipa, who belongs to the honored circle charged with the Caruso rites, told of the ceremony while in Paris fulfilling contract engagements.

"In doing this thing, we only carry into effect one of the last wishes of Caruso himself," Schipa said, "and we intend to keep it up as long as any of us live."

"Just now he is dressed in a smart cutaway with striped trousers, wing collar and the typical Caruso cravat. The suit fits him perfectly."

"Next year, the time for the ceremony comes around again. What will we find for him then? We shall be guided by the fashion plates of the day."

Britain on Watch for U. S. Agitators

London, Nov. 25 (AP).—The Daily Express said today a watch was being kept at British ports for arrival of two unnamed Americans involved in the recent Gastonia strike riots. The two men have been invited here by the International Glass Workers' Association, which plans a meeting in Trafalgar square to introduce them to British workmen. The government was said to be considering their exclusion.

1 Wash and dry fish, dredge with salt and flour (or cornmeal). Put Crisco into cold frying pan. To cook the fish without smoke or scorching, use enough Crisco to partly cover it. It will not require the constant attention frying does when only a little fat is used.

2 Put frying pan over low heat. As soon as Crisco is melted put in a small piece of bread. When bread starts to brown, put in the fish.

3 Cook slowly. When the fish is nearly done, turn to brown the other side. With plenty of Crisco in the pan the fish is easily turned without breaking, if you wait until it is almost done.

4 Strain the Crisco through cheesecloth or a fine sieve into an empty pan and use it for the next thing you want to fry. No one will know you have fried fish in it.

You taste milk. You test eggs. Now, taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Then you'll understand why Crisco's own sweet, fresh flavor so improves the taste of your cakes, pies, hot breads, cookies and fried foods.

Crisco is a registered trade name of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Co.

STATE HEALTH HEAD WINDS OF MENACE IN COMMON COLDS

246 CASES OF PNEUMONIA IN NOVEMBER

Death Toll Reaches 55; the Need of "Keeping Fit" is Stressed by Dr. Bigelow

There have been 246 cases of pneumonia reported to the State Health Department so far this month, and 55 deaths from this disease up to the middle of the month. Out of 24 cases of influenza there were nine deaths during this period.

This shows an increase of 51 cases of pneumonia for the same period last year, when there were also fewer cases of influenza.

With this announcement Dr. Charles H. Bigelow today issued a warning against neglect of the common cold which is responsible for the majority of these cases.

The secret of success in avoiding colds is physical fitness, Dr. Bigelow emphasized, and this must be kept in mind constantly from now until next May.

MENT KEEP WELF FIT

"The hideous burden of congestion under which we live makes the control of the common cold the most difficult," the health commissioner declared.

"A crowded trolley where a cougher sneezes or a person breathes is a health hazard," he said.

"The only thing lying to the dark cloud is the fact that there is evidence that persons of types of germs which are too mild to affect the people in congested districts. But this is not true of the common cold which attacks everybody and which like corns and calluses, seems most futile to control."

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney added a word of warning also as he surveyed his records at City Hall today.

"This is the time for everybody to think of all the health rules they know and apply them in an extra effort to build up disease resistance," Dr. Mahoney said.

"We cannot avoid the danger of infection for congestion, but we can keep in mind the fact that pneumonia germs in his mouth and it needs only lowered resistance to blue and green from the upper hand. We must strive to keep physically fit for the next few months."

GIVES HEALTH RULES

Dr. Mahoney stressed the danger of stimulants at this season, when taken on the advice of a physician.

"The polar explorers have proven, along with others, the fallacy of the idea that stimulants increase body temperature," he pointed out.

"They give a surface feeling of warmth that in reality reduces the body temperature."

He urged common sense clothing, to suit the indoor and outdoor changes, and recommended light garments with heavier overcoats for outside wear. "In winter," he said, "worn inside overheated buildings where people are crowded."

Seize Alcohol Load; Truck Driver Held

A truck carrying 18 drums of alcohol, totaling 90 gallons, was seized in Mattapan, Hyde Park, today by Hyde Park police.

The driver, who gave the name of Joseph Allen and a wrong address in West Street at South Boston, was arrested charged with illegal transportation.

The seizure was made by Sgt. John Freeman, Officer John Foley and Motorcycle Officer John McNally.

Alumni of Nautical School Dine Tonight

Leaders of the shipping industry, graduates of the Massachusetts Nautical Training School, will meet Saturday night for the annual banquet of the alumni at the Chamber of Commerce.

Sgt. Charles H. Hurley, Jr. heads a large committee that includes Capt. Herman T. Parker, former steamship inspector; Capt. George E. Eaton, superintendent of the harbor; and others.

The dinner will be held at the Hotel New England, 100 State Street, at 8 o'clock.

Man Collapses in Postoffice Square

John Whittier, general manager of the Boston Fire and Police Insurance Bureau, collapsed today in Postoffice square, and was removed to Haymarket Relief station.

His condition was reported serious, although he suffered a severe scalp wound when he fell.

He is 51 years of age and lives on Pleasant st., South Natick.

Stomach Trouble?

"STATISTICAL DEFICIENCY" (difficult to digest, excessive, constipation, etc.) is the cause of stomach trouble. Because of this deficiency, the stomach is unable to handle the food properly. This causes excess acid, which leads to indigestion, heartburn, and other stomach troubles.

It is important to keep the stomach healthy and free of excess acid. This can be done by taking a course of treatment with a reliable stomach medicine.

Lobster's Body Job Beats Rainbow for Color

The fact for color in body jobs has been taken up with tremendous enthusiasm by crustaceans in Marlborough, where Ralph Connor brought in a lobster that surpasses anything the wildest automobile designer has yet created.

His left big claw is a dark blue like the upper side, and bright pink underneath. The right big claw is missing. All the small legs are complete. Its upper body, on one side of the center is a deep blue and on the other side dark green mottled with yellow. The under side of the body is translucent, showing all the colors of the spectrum like mother of pearl.

Old Boston in Pictures--No. 117

THE old court house, where now stands the City Hall Annex, is today's picture in this interesting series of scenes of Boston of bygone days. The artist has depicted one of the mobs of the Abolition riot during the year 1833. The building itself was erected 20 years before in the massive style of the period, and later gave way to the new court house in Pemberton sq.

as fuel, makes Your Cellar a clean, usable "Room"

Have you ever stopped to think that the building of your basement costs money, just the same as any other part of the house? Yet, in most homes, the cellar is an unsightly storage space for fuel and household "junk"—given over to dust, ashes and cobwebs.

Because Gas Heating is clean—the fuel delivered direct to your heating plant through a pipe—basement space may be used to the utmost.

Thus, Automatic Gas Heating actually adds another story to your home, without rebuilding. And a clean basement means a cleaner home.

Think of it! Room for a den, a work or play room, a study or game room, a laundry—and, in addition, the convenience and comfort of the ever care-free Gas Heating.

Isn't this worthy of careful, thoughtful investigation? Why not consult your heating contractor right now? Or let us make a survey, without obligation, and furnish you complete installation and operation estimates, for heating your home with gas.

Bright and Dark Colorings Vie for First Fashion Place

AS the season moves on apace and the first shock of the radical changes in the mode wears off a bit, we are able to settle on a few fashion points which are definitely established for the remainder of the winter. Everyone now knows that the long skirt has arrived, but not persons are certain as to the exact status of course. All black still remains one of the smartest choices for an hour of the day, but running it a close contest the Vogue for lighter coat colors. The fact that the smart woman's life is divided between warm and cold climates so much now, is a logical explanation for the introduction of lighter tones in the winter mode. These new light hues are of two kinds, those that are intense and those that are softer, or "blended," as they are called.

Two costumes typical of the dark and bright side of the question have been sketched. YOU who look on the dark side of the color scheme have the choice of the all-black costume or the black costume with a touch of color to relieve its somberness. The smart person shown here has chosen a frock after Grand which relieves the black of its mousey crepe fabric with a light touch of collar and cuffs. With this frock she wears a black velvet hat of Jean Patou's which has a trim gallop bow at the side. Her bag is a copy of Van Gogh's double envelope in black calfskin. Black knit socks complete this fashionable picture.

THE Light Coat for Winter and Its Accessories

Achie of the black costume you decide that is what you want. But wait—here is the bright coat with its matching accessories. Can you resist it? If you're desiring the bright coat it would be well to say that it becomes formalized through the luxurious use of fur. The bright color range includes such shades as grass green, rust or henna, channel red and bright yellow. The clouded or lighter colors that are also being smartly worn include pale green, light olive green, peach, pastel blue, and a rosy beige.

With this coat our modern person has the opportunity of using contrast in her accessories. A formal oxford in kid combines a darker green with darts of suede on the instep in a lighter green. Her bag is the same shade as the shoes and has an interesting metal handle. Her hat also is the darker green but her pull-on gloves match the tone of her fur collar and cuffs. If by now you cannot decide which color scheme to use—let us suggest that you include both in your wardrobe.

New York Bond Market

GOOD MARKET'S DEPTONE IS FIRM

By JOHN L. COOLEY

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—Bond prices maintained a firm under tone today, although the market was slightly less active in early trading. The volume was sufficient to indicate, however, that a large proportion of current investment funds are being placed in fixed income securities the better of the market.

Another drop in time money, which had been generally expected, gave further support to the steady favorable sentiment toward bonds. Sixty-day loans were quoted at 4 1/2 per cent, the lowest rate of the year, compared with the recent quotation of 5 per cent for all maturities. Small sums were reported moving. Call money again advanced at 4 1/2 per cent.

United States Government securities showed continued activity, moving irregularly lower from their recent highs on selling pressure from part by uncertainty over the terms of the new Treasury financing. The last issue of securities, which appeared while money rates were considerably above their present figures, bore 4 1/2 per cent interest.

Part of the prospective offering is expected to be in the form of floating Treasury bills, which may be sold at a discount. The maturing of the Federal Government will be slightly more than $700,000,000.

A handful of high grade bonds worked into new ground during the year and numerous others traded at about 100 per cent of their face. Some of the large gains were those of 2 1/2 points in Central New Jersey 5 1/2 per cent bonds, Missouri Pacific refunding 5 1/2 per cent, and the latter making a new top. There was fractional improvement in Union Pacific 4 1/2 per cent, Burlington 4 1/2 per cent and Alton 4 1/2 per cent.

Industrial and utilities moved steadily. Bethlehem Steel rose sharply a point and Penna. Electric Car 4 1/2 per cent and a half. The share privilege group was dull and irregular. Texas Corporation 2 1/2 per cent moved in good volume at a small concession. The two telephone convertibles showed slight variations from the Monday close.

Foreign obligations tended upward. French Government 5 1/2 per cent, which touched new highs yesterday, were steady. New offerings increased. The flotation included a $3,000,000 additional block of Postal Telegraph 4 1/2 per cent bonds, and a $2,000,000 offering of Postal Telegraph 4 1/2 per cent bonds, and a $2,000,000 offering of Postal Telegraph 4 1/2 per cent bonds.

Over 16 voluntary reductions in interest rates in effect for the first time were not in effect in October, 1929. Customers numbered 171,218 a year earlier.

Aircraft Corp. to Earn Over Million
Orders now on books of Consolidated Aircraft Corporation of Buffalo, approximately $1,000,000, according to George M. Pynchon, Jr., of banking firm of Pynchon & Co. "The Buffalo company will show earnings for 1929 about $1,000,000, with those of last year," he said, "and should not net $1,000,000."
